To whom it may concern:

My husband and I were recently renting a small basement apartment. After the birth of our second child we decided that it was time to buy our first home. We spoke with three different mortgage lenders and were met with some frustrating news. Because of some credit mistakes it would be difficult to get the funding for our new home.

Our Realtor referred us to Kevin Horrocks with Olympus Funding. We spoke with him over the phone and set up a meeting. Because we have two small children he offered to meet us in our home.

We were surprised to learn that Kevin was exceptional compared with the other lenders that we had spoken with. He helped us to understand the process; he clearly explained all of the terms and paperwork and got us approved for a loan that met our family's needs.

When we finally found a home that we loved, Kevin, notified us that he had locked us in with an incredible interest rate.

Kevin's assistant Elissa was also great to work with. Kevin and Elissa were effective and reliable; they answered all of our questions and made us feel at ease.

We love our new home and are so grateful that we found Kevin. We have and will recommend him to any of our family or friends planning on buying a home.

Sincerely,

Michal and Joe E.
